Grace is an international speaker and transformational strategist empowering women through the fearless paradigms of self-love to become the woman of their dreams.

Born in Southern Philippines and abandoned at the age of five, Grace grew up in a troubled environment, through which she developed an unshakeable resilience and a headstrong ability to overcome adversity. Her relentless pursuit of much wider education outside of the academe, and more so through her radical expressions in writing, activism and corporate diversity, drove her to become passionate about uncovering the fearless paradigms of self-love that highly successful and purpose driven women use, to orchestrate their beliefs and decisions and become the woman of their dreams.

In her quest for a deeper connection with life, she travelled to Australia and began her spiritual journey to healing and forgiveness. As a single mother of two young children, she spent over a decade with one of the big four banks and helped over 5,000 small business owners plan their business strategy to a deeper level, and how they can run a sustainable business in relation to their overarching life goals.

In 2017 she left the corporate scene to study Yoga while running a global online business, building a team from USA, Singapore, UK and Australia. Within twelve months she was recognized as a Rising Star by The Prosperity of Life Network for her significant contribution both in leadership and top sales.

Grace pushed further into her purpose by making the boldest decision of her life – to share her story and deliver a message of transcendence to women. As a speaker, Grace has shared the stage across the globe with resilience and empowerment experts like Dr. Sonja Stribling, Sam Cawthorn, Teddy Casiño and Rachel Krider.
